I will be absent all week this week (out of town). Nicole Loomis, our building substitute, will be in the room all week. If anything comes up, please feel free to send me an email or a message via Remind as I will occasionally be checking both. Book bags will not be sent home this week. You may keep them until Wednesday, March 9th!!

Language Arts:

This week we are learning all about the letter s (as in sun and sip). We will also be learning the word for. Last week we completed our reports on George Washington– they are hanging in our classroom now but will be coming home in a few weeks. It's always fun to see what sticks with the students. This year they loved that he married Martha and that he lost all of his teeth.

Wednesday, March 2nd is Dr. Seuss' birthday. We will spend the week reading many of his books, including my favorite, The Lorax. We will also complete many projects, including a fun bulletin board for the hallway.

Math:

In math we will continue working on subtraction. Last week we focused on facts of 6 (6-1, 6-2) and this week we will move on to seven. Although we are moving onto subtraction, we will still practice our addition facts working towards fluency.

March is Reading Month:

March is Reading Month kicks off on Tuesday with a whole school assembly. Our theme this year will be March Madness (just like the basketball tournament). We created a jersey with our favorite books that is displayed in the cafeteria. A reading log will be coming home for you to track the minutes your student reads this month. The goal is to read 20 minutes per day. Time spent reading book bags counts, time you spend reading to your student counts, any reading counts. Hopefully the log will be sent home this week. If not, look for it when I return (you can track your minutes on scrap paper in the mean time).

Field Trip:

This week you will be receiving a permission slip for our upcoming field trip. We have been invited to the Warren Consolidated Performing Arts Center to watch the high schoolers perform "School House Rocks". The trip is on Monday, March 21st from 11:30-1:30. The cost has been taken care of by the district therefore no money is due, just the permission slip. Because we will be leaving school at 11:30, students will be eating lunch at 11:00 instead of our normal 12:00. You may want to pack a more substantial snack for the afternoon since kids will most likely be hungry!
